Post Office Blown Open And Robbed

Midnight Marauders Clean Out Safe and Get Away

About $500 in Coin and Stamps
Secured—Work Seems To Be
That of Professionals.

Unknown cracksmen blew open the safe in the Stanford postoffice early Tuesday morning and secured about $100 in cash and from $350 to $500 in stamps. Postmaster Florence cannot tell the exact amount until he checks up his books.

Entrance to the building was effected by breaking the glass in the windows above the outside lock boxes. The robber went about his work in a methodical way. He undoubtedly was an experienced hand at the game.

A hole about half an inch in diameter was drilled in the safe just above the combination lock with a powerful drill.

Ready for business now, the marauder then mixed his "soup"—as nitro-glycerin is called in the criminal parlance—on a shelf in the rear of the office. He did not use all of the supply of explosive he made, but left some on the shelf in a dirty white handkerchief, mute evidence of the means employed in the robbery, but affording no clue to the robber.

The explosion, which followed and gave access to the contents of Uncle Sam's strong box, was heard by many people in town. No one seems to have attached any particular significance to it, however, most of those who heard it passing it off as a loud shot fired by some late roisterer. George H. Farris heard the explosion but did not get up, thinking it was some one firing in Ball's alley. Rural Route Carrier Jesse Manning, who had been out in the country spending the evening with friends, came back to town about midnight. He was turning the corner of Main and Whitley avenue when he heard the explosion, but thought nothing of it more than to wonder what it was.

It is generally believed that two men must have handled the job, one acting as lookout while the other did the dirty work. They did a clever job and got away with but little chance of capture. There was some talk of getting bloodhounds but the government will make no allowance for such expense.

The robbers could easily have gotten out of town on an early freight, or the morning passenger trains.

MUCH ACTIVITY IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES.

Lincoln National Increases Capital And Surplus—New Bank Is Meeting Much Encouragement.

Much interest is being manifested in banking circles in Stanford since the announcement last week of the organization of the State Bank and Trust Company. Financial interests have been stirred and business has received an impetus which augurs well for the continued growth and prosperity of the community.

At a meeting of the directors of the Lincoln County National Bank Saturday it was decided to increase its capital stock $50,000 and the surplus $50,000. The bank will then show a capital of $100,000 and a surplus of $100,000, a splendid showing. At the first meeting of the directors of the First National Bank it is expected that a cashier will be elected to succeed the late John J. McRoberts. Several have been mentioned for the place, but it is not thought that the directors have yet definitely decided upon the man as yet.

The promoters of the State Bank and Trust Company say that they are very well pleased with the success which is attending their efforts to secure liberal subscriptions to stock. They are pleased with the way the people of Lincoln are manifesting confidence in the future of the new institution by subscribing for stock. They say that there is no reason why three banking institutions should not do well in Stanford, and point to Lancaster—not nearly so good a business point—which supports three and all do a nice business.

The promoters are still negotiating for a suitable location for the new bank. They have several storerooms under consideration, but have made no definite arrangements as yet.

Good Price

Realized For Land At Sale Of Moore Estate Near Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Givens have returned from Paris where the celebrated farm of the late Mrs. Sallie E. Moore was sold at auction last Thursday. Mrs. Givens is one of the heirs to the estate. One hundred and twenty-five acres of woodland sold at $175 an acre, and 250 acres of fine farming land brought $135.25 an acre. Peed and other tobacco men of Bourbon, bought the place. Clarence Lebus, president of the Burley Society, was one of the bidders. The land is considered very desirable.

Officers Elected

For Ensuing Year By Baptist Missionary Society.

The Missionary Society of the Baptist church met Friday with Mrs. J. N. Menefee. An unusually large number were present and a profitable afternoon spent. Three new members were enrolled: Mrs. Richard Scudder, Mrs. Eads and Mrs. Shelton Saufley. Delightful refreshments were served after the business session.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. J. T. Hoskins; Vice President, Mrs. Joe S. Rice; Secretary, Mrs. W. H. Wearan; Treasurer, Mrs. Jesse D. Wearan; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Shelton M. Saufley. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. J. Brown.

CONVENTION AT DANVILLE AUGUST 6.

Will be Held by Republicans To Nominate Candidate For Con- gress in This District.

Dr. R. M. Davison, republican county committeeman for Lincoln county, and George D. Florence attended the meeting of the 8th district republican committee at Danville Saturday, when a convention was called to be held in Danville August 6 to nominate a candidate for Congress. It is not believed that the republicans have any hope of defeating Congressman Helm, but the nomination will be made to keep intact the party organization.

Auditor Frank P. James, of Harrodsburg, has been urged to accept the nomination, but it is understood that he does not desire to run. Mr. Miles, of Nicholasville, is also mentioned. Judge L. W. Bethurum, of Rockcastle, declined to run, though urged to do so by many friends.

The Eighth district is reliably democratic now by about 1,800 and only in cases of the utmost apathy among the democrats do the republican leaders figure they have a chance. Congressman Helm is very popular over the district and will poll the full democratic vote.

Younger Set Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bright Re- ceive in Honor of Their Grad- uate Son.

One of the prettiest social functions of the week was the reception Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bright gave Friday evening in honor of their son, Thomas, who has just graduated from the Stanford High School. The house and lawn were beautifully lighted and decorated in blue and yellow, the school colors. An orchestra, stationed in the rear part of the house, added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

A unique feature in the decorations was a large white cake in the center of the dining table, with the initials of the graduates on it, there being four graduates, and a side of the cake for each graduate. These initials were put on with blue decorative icing. Ices, cakes and mints in the class colors were daintily served.

A large number of guests were present, and all came away wishing that that there would be many more graduating parties.

Mr. Bob

To Hold The Boards At Huston- ville On Evening of June 1st.

The Junior Class of the Stanford High School will give the play, "Mr. Bob" at the Hustonville Opera House next Wednesday evening, June 1st. They give a very creditable performance and will doubtless have a splendid house.

Miss Jackson, who will assist them again, has much histrionic ability, and many of the Juniors have considerable talent, as was demonstrated in their performance at the opera house here last week.

Was A Gallant Soldier.

Among those who attended the Confederate Unveiling was Mr. R. G. Collier, a native of Lincoln county, but now a resident of Somerset. He is an engine inspector on the Cincinnati Southern Railway. He was a member of Company C in a Confederate regiment. There were 16 soldiers in the regiment bearing the name of Collier. Of that number only two are now living, the subject of this notice and his brother. Six of the Colliers were from Pulaski county, all brothers, and the last one died a few weeks ago.—Advocate.

Another Automobile.

Smith Baughman last week purchased a handsome Overland automobile from Cecil & Dunn, of Danville. Accompanied by his young son, Morgan Smith, he went to Louisville and drove it through in company with Mr. Dunn. The car is a beauty.

This makes the sixth car in town. John Owsley Reid sold his big car in Louisville the other day or Stanford could have boasted seven, which is about as many as Frankfort has. The old town is certainly a coming.

Preaching at Hubble.

Rev. Sam Pittman will preach at the Hubble Christian church next Sunday, June 5, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Everybody invited; the church members earnestly requested to be present.

FANCY PRICES PAID FOR GLENBURNIE HERD

Col. H. P. Hawkins Disposes Of Magnificent Collection Of Shorthorns At Public Sale.

Discriminating cattle buyers from all over Kentucky and other States, attended the dispersal sale of Col. H. P. Hawkins' Glenburnie herd of Shorthorns on the Danville pike Thursday afternoon. A total of 20 head of cows, calves and bulls were sold at auction. The 20 averaged $185 and brought a total of $3,700. Thomas Johnson, of Columbus, O., bought the best cow in the lot and paid $775 for her. Carpenter & Ross, of Mansfield, O., paid $500 for a cow and O. F. Hankle, of Kenyon, Wis., paid $275 for the bull, Anoka. R. T. Gaines, of Lincoln, bought the cow, Miss Wimpie, and calf for $125, and a yearling heifer for $80; Ben Gaines bought a young bull for $125; J. K. Baughman paid $225 and $150, respectively for two cows; W. T. Robinson, of Faulconer, bought seven or eight head of the stock at fancy prices. John Boster, of the same community, bought several head.

Foreign buyers were driven from Danville to Glenburnie, where dinner, which had been prepared by the Gilcher House, Danville, was served. Among those present from a distance were Geo. W. Martin, a staff representative of the Breeders' Gazette, Chicago. The Breeders' Gazette is the best paper of the kind in the United States and has many subscribers through this section of Kentucky.

The auctioneers were Col. Cary M. Jones, of Washington Boulevard, Chicago, and Col. George P. Bellows, of Maryville, Mo., who are two of the best auctioneers of the day.

Col. Hawkins expressed himself as well pleased with the result of the sale. He had spent much pains and money in the collection of the magnificent Glenburnie herd, but has decided to relinquish his holdings for a time.

Beer For Danville?

Brewers Want To Ship It In But Courts Must Decide.

(Danville Advocate.)

The president of the Kentucky Brewers' Association with headquarters in Louisville, telephoned Circuit Clerk Price this morning for a copy of Judge Saufley's decision in the Bunk Raum case. The high mogul of the brewers stated that Danville is a "wet town" and that the distillers propose to ship their goods to this town. At present the express companies are refusing to accept any consignment of liquor for Danville on the ground that it is a dry town.

The president of the association also stated that the Southern Express Co. would be mandamus and force the carrier to deliver beer shipments from Lawrenceburg, Lexington and Louisville to Danville customers, as the city is wet and can not be governed by local option laws. At present all liquors must be shipped from another state.

Many people think the court of appeals will reverse Judge Saufley's decision, while others feel that it will be upheld. A decision is expected in the course of a few days.

Dix River Dam

May Soon Be Under Construction At Cost of $1,250,000.

Eight or ten of the eastern capitalists, who are interested in constructing the proposed dam at Kennedy's Mill on Dix river, were there last week looking into the matter. Evidently they were well pleased for they wired to New York for engineers, and they will be on the spot within a week or ten days. It is estimated that this big dam will cost $1,250,000. It will have a 12,000 horse power, and will furnish light and power of all kinds for a number of Central Kentucky towns.

Kirk Stephens, a young man residing near Columbia, had his right arm so fearfully mangled by the accidental discharge of a shot gun that amputation was necessary. He had been out hunting and was climbing over a log, when the hammer struck against a limb and the shell exploded, almost tearing his arm from his body.

Boosting Lancaster Fair.

President Arnold and Secretary John Farra, of the Lancaster Fair, were here last week boosting that splendid exhibition which will be held in Garard July 27, 28, 29. Lincoln county always sends over a lot of fine stock to exhibit and this year promises to be no exception.

Man Bird Makes Great Flight.

Glen H. Curtis flew from Albany to New York City in an aeroplane Sunday winning the $10,000 prize offered by the New York World. He covered the distance of 137 miles in two hours thirty-two minutes, and came to earth as calmly and as lightly as a pigeon. His average speed for the distance, 54.66 miles an hour, surpassed any record ever made by an aeroplane in long distance flights, and in its entirety his feat perhaps eclipses anything man has attempted in a heavier-than-air machine.

Mrs. Land Dead.

Wife of Prominent Business Man Passes To Her Reward.

Mrs. Alice Land, wife of W. B. Land of the firm of Land & Buchanan, died at their home in Rowland, last Friday evening, and was laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery Sunday morning. Mrs. Land had been in ill health for some time. She is survived by her husband and four children. She was a daughter of Ben Martin, a popular and attractive woman, and a faithful member of the Christian church. Rev. Ed Hubbard conducted services at the grave, a large number of friends and loved ones attending to pay the last tribute to a good woman who has gone to her reward.

Back To Pastorate

Rev. R. B. Mahony Accepts Call To Todd County Church.

Rev. R. B. Mahony has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Allensville, Todd county, and will soon leave to take up his work there. Mr. Mahony has been out of active service in the ministry for several years and but recently sold his large insurance agency here to Fish & Pennington. He had a fine offer to go with a large insurance company at Tacoma, Washington, but declined it to re-enter the ministry.

His many friends here will regret to give him and his two popular daughters up.

Current Events Club

Meets With Mrs. Tribble And Discusses Smithsonian Institute.

Mrs. W. A. Tribble informally but delightfully entertained the Current Events Club last week and a most interesting program was carried out. The topic for the afternoon was the Smithsonian Institute, a subject given by Mrs. Clarence Tate, and a most appropriate one, just now being brought into prominence through Roosevelt's travels abroad in the interest of this institution. Mrs. Tate had an excellent paper but could not be present to read it, so Mrs. J. C. Hays substituted for her. Dainty refreshments were served, little Dorothy Tribble assisting her mother in serving them.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. G. Carpenter, the subject being American Authors.

Most of the members of the club were present and the following guests: Mesdames Thomas Shanks, Carroll Shanks, Shelton Saufley, R. M. Newland, John Shanks, W. B. McKinney, Will Logan, J. H. Baughman, and A. H. Severance.

Moving Some This Week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Fowle are moving into their new home just vacated by E. C. Walton. George DeBord will take the place vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Fowle, while Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garrett will occupy the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. DeBord.

Maccabees At Ottenheim.

The Ottenheim Tent of Maccabees was installed by A. C. Sine and M. F. Ekin last week, with 16 members, and there are several more applications before the lodge. W. T. White was elected commander, with John Wenzel record keeper and Simon Petry vice commander. The new lodge starts off most auspiciously and with a strong membership.

Body of Little Alma Kellner Found

Missing Louisville Girl Had Been Murdered

Remains Discovered In Basement of Catholic School and Jani- tor is Missing.

Louisville, Ky., May 30.—The body of Alma Kellner was found in a sub-cellar at St. John's Catholic school at 10 o'clock this morning by a plumber who had been sent into the cellar to look after the water system, which was out of condition.

The man was horrified at the sight that met his eyes and ran to the street and gave the alarm.

The cellar was little used and possibly no one had been in it for several months, with the exception of the little girl's slayers.

It is evident that she had been murdered. Six ribs and her back were broken. She was wrapped in an old carpet and quick lime had been thrown over her body, partially destroying it. One leg with foot attached was found buried three feet deep in the cellar.

Positive identification was made by Frank Fehr, uncle of the dead girl.

It is the theory that she was attacked and killed where she was found. Her body had been in the cellar for many months.

Alma Kellner, young daughter of Frederick Kellner, was believed to have been kidnapped from the home of her parents on Dec. 8, 1909. Police officers and detectives throughout the country have searched for her. Her parents are wealthy and related to Frank Fehr, the millionaire brewer, and fabulous rewards were offered for her recovery. Her parents, almost distracted, have waited in vain, hoping that she would be found, and when the news of the murder and finding of the decomposed body was told them, the parents broke completely down.

The entire city is wrought up over the heinous crime, done by a heartless wretch.

Thousands of people hurried to the scene at St. John's School when report of the discovery of the body was made. Excitement is still high and morbid thoughts lurk around the scene of the brutal murder.

Crab Orchard Sanitarium

Bought By J. C. Spitler and Will be Run on High Plane.

J. C. Spitler, formerly of Union City, Ind., has bought the Crab Orchard Sanitarium from the White's Concentrated Salts and Water Company, and will soon have his big place opened up for guests. He will put in many improvements and have one of the most up-to-date institutions of the kind in the State. Mr. Spitler is thoroughly familiar with his work and a splendid success for him is predicted.

R. C. White still retains the proprietorship of his celebrated Concentrated Crab Orchard Salts and Water.

Stanford 4; Harrodsburg 3.

The Stanford High School baseball team seems to have the hoodoo on them all. It went to Harrodsburg Thursday afternoon last and defeated the school team there in a hard game by a score of 4 to 3, making the second defeat administered to the Mercer lads this season. This game won made the 20th straight victory that the local boys have secured.
